Mreas, the late accident at the Girard House, and there of a similar character in the city, has shown that accidents are likely to occur from the unsafe condition of the boilers of buildings in which steam is used; and whereas, the lives of the citizens should be shielded from this danger as much as possible by ordinances of the Common Council, therefore,

VETO OF THE MAYOR ON THE RESOLUTIONS DECLARING THE LEASE OF THE WILLIAMSRUEG PERRIES NULL AND VOID.

The following communication was received from the Mayor.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW YORK, Oct. 3, 1859.

TO THE HONORABLE THE COMMON COUNCIL:—
GENTLEMEN—I herewith return to you without my approval the resolutions adopted by the Common Council on the 19th of September last, declaring null and void the authorized leases granted to Meserole and others, of the ferries from Grand street in this city to Grand street, Brooklyn, and from Peck slip to South Seventh street, Brooklyn, or adjacent thereto; and directing the Counsel to the Corporation to take proceedings immediately to prevent the unauthorized use of and interference with such ferries, and also that the Comptroller proceed forthwith to advertise and sell at public auction the lease of the said Grand street ferry, and the one from the northerly basin at Peck slip to the foot of South Seventh street, Brooklyn, for the term of ten years from the first of January next, and that such leases be submitted to the Common Council for their approval. In arriving at this conclusion I regret that I am again compelled to put myself in opposition to the Common Council on a question connected with the ferry rights of this city. In my judgment, to sanction this resolution would be to establish a precedent well carculated to disturb that confidence which should always be placed in the city of New York.

The Common Council, on examination of the public records, will find that leases have already been executed by the public agents of the city, to J. V. Meserole and others, of ferries between the points referred to in the above resolution. The right to run these ferries was sold at public auction, after advertisements appeared in the charter,) of the MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW YORK, Oct. 3, 1859.

the public agents of the city, to J. V. Meserole and others, of ferries between the points referred to in the above resolution. The right to run these ferries was sold at public auction, after advertisements appeared in the newspapers, (in pursuance of the provisions of the charter,) of the proposed sale of the ferry franchises between the points suggested. At the sale a sharp competition took place. The purchaser at the sale agreed to pay $21,000 per anum for the Grand street ferry. These sales were made under the direction of the Comproller of the city. The purchasers having furnished adequate security, required their leases, which were executed to them in the month of May last. Immediately on the execution of the leases, the parties to whom they were made entered into arrangements for running boats on these ferries. They have made large expenditures in the purchase of boats and preparing proper landing places on each side of the river. They have paid their rent on the ferries into the public treasury, and so far as was in their power they have compiled with the terms of their contract with the city. The resolution submitted to me proposes to annul that contract, to repudiate our own covenants made with parties who have honestly paid their rents and faithfully performed their share of the agreement. To sanction such a resolution would be to undermine the confidence now placed in the contracts of the public authorities of this city. For one I am not prepared to concur in any act which will disturb that condence in the invitoiability of contracts which lies not only at the very foundation of commercial prosperity but of social existence. That faith shall not be impaired by any act o mine.

The resolution against which I offer my objections as sumes that the Montgomery charter has been violated in the execution of the leases in question. It also insists that the leases should have been submitted to the Com-the execution of the leases in question. It also insists that the leases should have been submitted to the Common Council for ratification.

The provision in the Montgomery charter authorized the city of New York to establish ferries; that is, to declare that an exclusive right should exist to carry passengers and freight between points on the island to certain designated points on the opposite shores. It gave the power to the city to create a franchise of a particular nature. In pursuance of this authority many years since the Common Council directed a ferry to be authorized from the foot of Grand street to (then) Williamsburg, now Brooklyn, E. D. In November, 1835, the Common Council directed a ferry to be established from Peck slip to Williamsburg, Thus under the charter the ferry franchises were established by the Common Council. Leases have from time to time been granted of these ferry franchises so established. Last May the term for which the leases had been granted adving expired, new leases were granted to Meserole and others, as I have before stated. The Comptroller of the city was the agent of the public authorities in the execution of these leases. His authority is found in the last section of the amended charter of the city of New York, passed by the Legislature of this State in 1857. The section is as follows:—Sec. 41. All ferries, docks, piers and slips shall be leased, and all leases and sales of public property and franchises (other than grants of land under water to which the owners of the upland shall have a preemptive right) shall be made by public auction, and to the highest bidder, who will give adequate security. No lease hereafter given (except as the same may be required by covenants of the Corporation already existing) shall be for a longer period than ten years, and all ferry management or neglect by the Common Council for mismanagement or neglect by the Common Council for mismanagement or neglect the provisions of this act, shall be required to purchase, at a fair appraised valuation, the foranchise or grant under the provisions of this act, shall be required to purchase, at a fair appraised valuation, the foranchise or grant under the provisions of this act, shall be required to purchase, at a fair appraised valuation, the ferred to in this section shall be given, ander the direction of the Computolier, in the newspapers employed by the ferred to in this section shall be given, and the daily newspapers so employed. (Laws of New York, Eighteenth Sension, page 160, section 41, Public Acts of 1847.)

This provision is but a repetition of the section of the vote of a large majority of the people of this city, and was afterwards ratified by the Legislature. The city of New York has, so far as ferries are concerned, ratified it by granting leases to parties through the Comptroller of the city after stale at public auction, and without submission to the Common Control and the city of the concolution adopted by the comparison of the Nonty of the common Control of the common Control

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONDAY, Oct. 3-6 P. M. The bank statement made up to-day compares as follows with the statement of last week:—
Week end g. Loans. Specie.
Sept. 24. $119.387.236 20,566,436 8,357,206 72,730,509

Decrease..$1,378,674 1,401,310 19,504 1,918,494 The loss of specie is larger than was expected, but the reduction in loans is likewise very considerable. Had the banks always pursued the policy of reducing their loans tation for wisdom would have stood higher than it does. The bank reserve now stands at a lower point than has been touched since November, 1857, when the banks were not paying specie. As trade revives and becomes active it can hardly be expected that the reserve will stand much above $15,000,000, as a general rule. This is quite as much as is necessary for all wholesome purposes of trade. A reserve of $15,000,000 might not permit the banks to expand to an extent of $125,000,000, as they so foolishly did this spring; but money would rule higher and fair traders would run less risk of being injured by the speculative operations of merchants trading beyond their means on the strength of facilities offered them at bank. Much of the reduction both of loans and of specie this week is traceable to the Merchants' Bank, which has lost the unusual sum of $640,692, and, with a sagacity which we commend to the notice of some other institu tions, at once reduced its discounts $593,127. There is considerable inquiry for money to day among the discount brokers, and long paper is not popular among lenders or at bank. The brokers obtain money freely at 6 per cent, with occasional exceptions at 5½ and at 7. We presume that the above bank statement will have a ten. dency to render the market this week less easy for bor rowers. If the banks are wise they will protect their gold. Exchange is not very active for the Boston steamer Sterling is held at 110 % a 14, at which rates there is moderate business; in francs there is nothing doing. No specie, from present appearances, will go to Boston toorrow for shipment in the Wednesday's steamer; or Saturday the usual shipment will probably be made from here. The supply of cottor-bills is increasing, and we may shortly look for some produce bills seeking a market at this point.

The stock market opened this morning with some an mation, which was checked by free sales of Central by a broker who has been identified with the bull interest i that stock. The fact led to the surmise that some heavy holders were realizing, and caused the price to decline a the whole market to recede. Between the boards stocks were inactive, and prices a shade lower. In the afternoon a further decline took place, and the market closed heavy. The fluctuations of the leading speculative stocks were considerable. New York Central advanced to 81 % n %, and closed at 80% a %. Rock Island sold as high as 671/2, but closed at 661/2. Galena sold up to 741/2 closing at 73% bid. So far as the business of the Western reads is concerned there seems to be no particular cause for a decline in prices. The reports from the West show that business there is steadily reviving, and that the crop is coming to market at prices which reward the farmer handsomely. It needs no argument to show that with this state of things existing the Western roads must do better this fall and winter than they did last, when there was no business in the West and no Western crop worth mentioning to move. The true cause of the late fluctuations in stocks must be sought in Wall street, and not o the lines of road. New York Central, for instance, has advanced 12 a 13 per cent within a short period, and is now as high as it was when the principal Western stocks were 3 a 4 per cent higher than they are. It is quitlikely that many of the parties who bought this stock on the rise may feel that a reaction is now fatrly due, an may sell out in consequence, in which event it would be safe to look for a decline in the price until the steck thus thrown on the market found a new home. Central, too, has been injured by exaggerated re ports of the September earnings. With regard to the other railroad stocks, there is no party or clique moving it any of them. The bull parties, which some time since operated in Galena, Rock Island and one or two other Western stocks, seem to have realized their profits, and to be watching for a good opportunity to renew the game.

Pacific Mail is mainly sustained by something very like a stocks and good railway bonds continues fair, and prices are well maintained. Missouris fell off 1/2 to-day, but the general market for State stocks was steady. Considerable excitement exists on the subject of the California mail routes. On Wednesday next three steamers will leave this port for Central America, with passengers for California. These are the Baltic, of the North Atlantic Company, which runs to Aspinwall and connects with the Pacific Mail Company's steamships on the other side; the Northern Light, of the Vanderbilt Company, which also runs to Aspinwall, and connects with Vanderbilt's vessels from Panama; and the St. Louis, of the new Atlantic and Central American Transit Co.," which runs to San Juan, and proposes to connect, via Nicaragua, with either the Oregon or the Pacific on the other side. This and touches at Key West. The St. Louis belongs to the Facilic Mail Company, and has been chartered by that company to the "Atlantic and Central American Transit Company," of which Mr. Joseph White appears to be the active manager.

state that they have made every arrangement for reopening the Nicaragua route under the Van Dyck grant; tha they have boats in abundance on the river and lake, and mules and carts for the land travel; that the Nicaraguan government will give them every facility, and that they will carry the mail through from the Atlantic to the Pacific in about thirty hours. On the Pacific, they say that they have the steamer Pacific ready to connect with them at San Juan del Sur. There appearing, however, to be some have been made by which, on the arrival of the Baltic at A pinwall, a message is to be despatched to the Pacific Mail Company's agent at Panama, directing him to send one of their steamers-apparently the Oregon-to wait for the St. Louis at San Juan del Sur. Such, as we understand, are the present prospects Wednesday. The new company appears to be sanguine of getting the mail. We presume it is prepared to offer suitable guarantees to the Department for its safe and speedy transit across the Isthmus of Nicaragua. Under the circumstances, we feel bound to recommend merchants who write by this opportunity to duplicate their

The Western exchanges are declining again. At Chicago Eastern exchange is selling at 1½ a ½; at St. Louis it s held at 1/4 a 3/4 premium. These rates are still too high for the season, and can hardly be maintained.
